

NEW IN STOCK

Pedders has recently expanded its range of rubber bushes to suit a host of vehicles. The expanded range of high quality rubber bushes are designed with the trade in mind. Despite major advances in synthetic bush materials, the natural performance characteristics of rubber bushes make them the most suitable material choice for a wide variety of applications.

Rubber bushes are generally more compliant than urethane bushes and are selected for applications that require a more flexible response. Standard rubber is most effective in reducing NVH. Pedders range of aftermarket engineered rubber bushes provide excellent control and response with smooth quiet operation.
