Pedders Sponsors Motor Magazine's Own Holden SS-V Ute

Motor Magazine – Australia's leading automotive magazine recently teamed up with Pedders to fit some of the new SportsRyder eXtreme XA Adjustable Coilover Suspension units to the magazines own Holden SS-V Ute. The article titled "Cutting Corners" provides readers with an overview on the installation of the adjustable suspension kits which are made available to a host of makes and models Australia wide through Pedders store network.

Here's what Motor had to say:

"Straight out of the box these coil-overs look the biz with anodised adjusters and bright red springs bringing a bit of bling, but you don't need to fork out for any extra's as there's detailed instructions and tools included in the kit so you can make any of the adjustments easily yourself." "Im amazed at how flat and stable it feels." . . . "Now, it just wants me to push harder to see what it can do. I can brake later, hold more cornerspeed and power out earlier then before – it's like night and day. "Instantly the car becomes stiffer and livelier, with a more precise turn in."
